3 TEACHERS AND LANGUAGE LAB ADDED AT HIGH SCHOOL

The Joint School Committee of the Gettysburg Joint School Board Monday evening created three new positions in the junior high school teaching staff and voted to purchase a language laboratory for the senior high school at an estimated cost of $15,000 to $16,000.

Superintendent H. Edgar Riegler said that reimbursement can be secured for half the cost of the language lab through National Defense Education Act funds.

The additions to the high school faculty are a result of increased enrollment with next fall's Seventh Grade to go above the 300 mark for the first time in history. Enrollment in the Eighth and Ninth Grades also will hit new highs.

FIRST IN AREA

The recommendation for the addition of three teaching posts came in the report of the Teacher and Curriculum Committee presented by its chairman, Thomas O. Oyler. Both Supt. Riegler and Clifford B. Snowberger, junior high school principal, spoke of the urgent need for the staff increases.

The language laboratory, also recommended by the Teacher Committee, will be the first in this area although many high schools have been using them for some years, the directors were told. Mr. Riegler said the emphasis in foreign language teaching is shifting from the cultural to the ability to speak in those tongues. "Now seemed to be a good time to broach the subject to the board," he said.

The language lab will be installed in a room of the new high school building where conduits were placed when the building was erected. Thirty pupil booths will be placed where they may hear the foreign language spoken, speak it themselves and then by tape recordings hear their own spoken versions of the language. They will be used in French, Spanish and German classes, Mr. Riegler said.

TWO ELECTED

He said one language lab probably will be adequate for about five years, suggesting that more units would be added later.

The lab will be financed in next year's budget, rather than by adding its cost to the bonded debt on the new building.

The extra teaching positions will be in the integrated Seventh Grade program, in remedial reading and in the math-science program in the Seventh Grade. Mr. Snowberger told the board 75 pupils in the Junior High School this year are in need of remedial reading and none is available. The two Junior High reading teachers now serving are in developmental reading programs.

The board elected two teachers for next fall, one in the high school and one in elementary.

NAME MISS JARVIS

Miss Mary M. Jarvis, a Gettysburg High School graduate and now a Shippensburg State College senior, was elected to an elementary position at the "regular beginning salary" which was not stated but recently has been $4,000.

He has served in Africa for many years as pastor, preacher, teacher, administrator and district superintendent. FOOTBALL IS ABANDONED AT JOINT SCHOOL

The board of directors of the Bermudian Springs Joint School System at their March meeting Monday evening voted 17 to 6 to drop interscholastic football at Bermudian Springs High School, effective immediately.

At the same session the board accepted the resignation of a retiring teacher and elected two new teachers.

The decision to drop football came after a discussion in which it was brought out that these problems contributed to the decision: The football coach resigned his coaching duties but continues as a member of the faculty so that there is no faculty position to assign a new coach; the football program has been operating "in the red year after year" and some board members felt that instead of pouring funds into that program the money could be better used elsewhere and finally the difficulty of getting enough boys to participate in the sport because of transportation problems in the large territory included in the jointure.

E'VE OTHER SPORTS

The board discussed possible expansion of other interscholastic sports and of the intramural sports program. There were 40 boys out for varsity football last fall and 29 for junior high among a total of 248 boys taking part in all varsity sports.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Nelle Hartman, Gettysburg, as a First Grade teacher at York Springs. She is retiring after 20 years of service.

The directors elected Miss Judith Tuma, Rockville, Md., a Susquehanna University senior, at $4,000 to take Mrs. Hartman's

EVENING HIGH SCHOOL PLAN IS PROPOSED

Gettysburg school directors were asked Monday evening "to give serious consideration to the establishment of a state-approved standard evening high school and summer school."

The suggestion was made by Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegler who said that under the proposed plans persons taking courses in such schools would earn credits toward a diploma. The schools would be operated at school district expense.

"Naturally this cannot be decided tonight," the superintendent said, "but it might deserve thought and consideration." He expressed the opinion "that we owe something to adults and out-of-school youths in the way of up-to-date and retraining courses. This is a growing idea across the nation," he said.

GRANT USE OF FACILITIES

The Gettysburg High School Alumni Association was granted use of the cafeteria and gymnasium in the senior high school for their annual banquet and dance May 31.

Jewish War Veterans of the U. S. were given use of the junior high school auditorium as a standby site for exercises they plan June 23 at the Pennsylvania Monument on the battlefield. The high school would be used in case of bad weather.

The Gettysburg Battle Centennial Commission was granted use of the junior high school gymnasium and a parking lot there for the display of military exhibits during the battle anniversary. Bidault May Be Granted Political Asylum If He Quits "Overthrow" Plans

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Bavarian state authorities may grant political asylum to former French Premier Georges Bidault if he agrees to abandon his underground campaign to topple French President Charles de Gaulle.

One highly informed source said chances seem good that Bidault will receive asylum. Bidault, 63, was discovered at a lakeside resort Sunday. He asked for political asylum. A close collaborator with De Gaulle in World War II resistance against Germany, he heads the political arm of the terrorist Secret Army Organization and its campaign to overthrow the French president. He is wanted in France on treason charges.

ADENAUER COOL

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, a postwar associate of Bidault in the European movement and a close ally of De Gaulle, tried to wash his hands of his country's embarrassing guest. His office said he returned unopened a personal appeal for asylum from Bidault.

Edward Stine reported that the Mason-Dixon Council of Camera Clubs plans a field trip to Gettysburg when dogwood and Judas blossoms are at their peak. Stine also said that the council plans to hold a picnic here the latter part of July or early in August. Stine and Maurice Stoops were named to arrange the picnic.

REVISE COUNT OF SABIN POLIO DOSES SUNDAY

Adams County's polio vaccine program Sunday proved even more successful than first reports indicated, Dr. Harrison F. Harbach, chairman of the Adams County Medical Society's "Sabin Sunday" committee, reported today.

While the first reports showed 27,123 received polio vaccine, a count of the actual amount of the vaccine distributed disclosed that 29,600 actually received the "shots." The original figures were based upon the number of cards issued to the persons who received the vaccine. The check of the number of doses given indicated that a large number apparently did not stop to receive their cards after taking the vaccine.

In addition there were such mass removals of vaccine as 100 doses taken from New Oxford to the Brethren Home at Cross Keys. Those figures did not show up in the first reports which were based on the cards issued to those receiving the vaccine.

TOTAL IS 34,000

A recheck of the number of McSherrystown-Conewago Twp.-Littlestown-New Oxford-East Berlin area residents who received the vaccine the prior Sunday in Hanover showed that number to be approximately 4,000. Dr. Harbach said as a result it is estimated that approximately 34,000 countians have received the vaccine.

In addition it is possible for 300 more to obtain the serum.

PASTOR TALKS TO KIWANIS MONDAY NIGHT

"The people of the world have a right to live and if we as service club and church members don't open our mouths and force the bringing about of conditions where there will be peace in the world and a chance for everyone then may God have pity on us," Rev. Dr. Nevin R. Smith, Hanover, said Monday evening at a ladies' night dinner in Trinity United Church of Christ marking the eighth anniversary of the local Kiwanis Club.

He termed it "ridiculous that the heads of our nations should act like small boys, with Khushchev saying in effect 'look at my muscle, I can lick you' and Kennedy coming back with 'my muscle is bigger than yours and I can lick you.'" Rev. Dr. Smith said, "We have all failed. Our churches have failed, our service clubs have failed and that means you and I and everyone else have failed, when we have failed to solve our problems of how to live together on this earth.

"Today we are in a race to the moon and beyond. But Col. John Glenn showed his level-headedness when he pointed out that we are

Some Changes To Be Made In Centennial Program Here

Important changes in plans for the centennial observance of the Battle of Gettysburg were revealed Monday evening in a talk before the Gettysburg Lions Club by Attorney Donald M. Swope, who is a member of the State Centennial Commission.

Most of the changes are a result of a switch in plans, presumably made at last Friday's meeting of the Centennial Commission, to invite President Kennedy here for Monday, July 1, instead of July 4.

The centennial parade has been switched from Tuesday, July 2, to Thursday, July 4, and probably will be held at 11 a.m. It is expected to last two hours.

The decision to change the President's invitation to speak here from July 4 to July 1 came after the commission was informed, Mr. Swope said, that the President likes to spend holidays with his family and would not likely accept a July 4 invitation here.

"Now we are proceeding on the expectation that he will come July 1," the Lions were told. Swope indicated there is not yet any solid commitment from the White House on the date.

REVISE PLANS

Earlier plans would then be revised and other events on that day will be given a role secondary to that of the ceremonies at which the President is expected to be the speaker. He said that the Kennedy address would be delivered in the afternoon. The commission hopes Governor William Scranton will be here to introduce the President, Swope said.

July 1 events now will include the issuance of the official Gettysburg Centennial postage stamp and formal presentations of land by the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association and the Loyal Legion of Pennsylvania.

Swope described the parade as "half military" with the first half to be a "walking pageant." He said local floats have not been "ruled out" but they must meet standards just as all other floats will be required to meet. "The Commission has not put a price tag on the floats," he said.

OPENS JUNE 30

The observance will begin Sunday, June 30, he said, with the annual memorial program which is being planned by the Gettysburg Fire Company and for which it deserves full credit.

General Eisenhower will be the Sunday evening speaker and there will be a concert by a major service band.

On the mornings of July 1, 2, 3 and 4 there will be a half dozen

Lenten Thought For Today

The word Lent comes from a root meaning "spring." Spring does not start with bursting seeds and buds. Seeds and buds are the result of spring. Spring starts with a new adjustment between the earth and the heavens. April would come in vain unless the yearly adjustment between earth and heaven took place. Our human personalities are planted with innumerable hidden, buried possibilities. John, using another figure, speaks of "the Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world." When a man's life comes into right adjustment with the Source of light and life—God—then possibilities become realities. Lent can be a springtime for your soul if you make the readjustment of your life with God.

DROPOUT RATE IN SCHOOLS IS BELOW NATION

Adams County — and Gettysburg Joint School system in particular — has a relatively small number of "dropouts" from the schools compared to the national figures for those who leave school before graduation. Mrs. Lucille Brennan told the Rotary Club Monday evening at its meeting in the YWCA.

She, with Dr. Mary Margaret Stewart and Mrs. James Crum, presented a panel discussion on "Social Dynamite — The Problem of Dropouts and Unemployed Youth."

While on a national scale about 40 per cent of the youths leave school before they graduate, dropout rate in the Gettysburg Junior-Senior High School is 5.8 per cent. The largest dropout rate in Adams County is 13 per cent.

Mrs. Brennan held that the interest of parents in the county in the education of their children, and "a fine guidance system" in the schools are largely responsible for the high percentage of graduates in the county. At the same time she held that youth employment in the county remains a problem. At the present time 12 per cent of the registered unemployed are youths under 21 years of age.

NEED PREPARATION

Unemployment of youths in the county comes partially from dropouts and partially because employers generally want young men to complete military requirements before hiring them. In addition "too few are being prepared for skilled or semiskilled jobs," she said. She urged the county to consider a technical training school, observing, "It would be far too expensive for any one school system to sponsor, but perhaps if all went together such a school could be established."

She added, "The dropouts have the most difficult task in obtaining jobs because employers look for several things first in going over the school records of an applicant. They look at the attendance records. If a youngster shows a record of tardiness and absenteeism they generally feel that the youth fails to show responsibility and thus are not too interested in employing him."

They also check extracurricular activities, holding that participation in extracurricular programs shows interest, willingness and reliability. Cheerfulness, willingness to learn and perseverance are what employers look for. Lack of these qualities has caused more loss of jobs than lack of skill because if the youth is reliable, perseveres and is willing to try to learn the lack of skills can be overcome."

'POTENTIAL DYNAMITE'
Mrs. Crum gave overall figures of dropouts in the nation and said that national authorities have warned that youths who drop out of school and are unemployed are "potential dynamite" as they increase in numbers. She held that failure to solve the problem is "wasting a great potential as well as causing an explosive situation."

Dr. Stewart reported on the system employed in Rockland County, N. Y., where eight school districts, industrialists, labor unions and others have cooperated to provide 17 different courses in the high schools which provide academic subjects in mornings and training in skills in afternoons. She added, "This program not only helps solve the problem of dropouts and prevents building up of a reservoir of unemployed youths, but it also helps meet a great need for skilled and semiskilled workers."

She warned: "We may not have too great a problem of dropouts and unemployed youth here—but we must be aware of the problem and seek to help solve it nationally. If the explosion comes in Baltimore or Philadelphia or New York or in any of our cities, we'll all be affected by it."

Vice President Rev. Robert MacAskill introduced the panel. President Clark Smith presided at the meeting. William Harbaugh and Dr. Kenneth Smoke led group singing.

The nominating committee submitted the following slate of officers: President, Rev. Robert MacAskill; vice president, William Harbaugh; secretary, Melvin Sargeant; treasurer, Calvin Shank; sergeant-at-arms, Paul Witt; directors, Frank Ruth, Alexander Griest, Dr. Carroll Voss and Thomas Washburn. YORK FIRM BRINGS SUIT

Careva Co., Inc., of York, has brought an action in assumpsit in court here for $2,544.80 against the Gettysburg Construction Co. for payment of a bill for plumbing and heating materials in connection with the construction of the Phi Kappa Psi House on the campus.

The law firm of Brown, Swope and MacPhail filed the complaint in the prothonotary's office alleging that the amount is owing since September, 1960, and represents a balance on an original bill of $9.94.

The materials for which Careva asks payment were sold by that company to D. P. Kurtz and Son, Boiling Springs, who was subcontractor for heating and plumbing on the construction of the fraternity building for which Gettysburg Construction was the prime contractor. It is alleged that the Gettysburg Construction Co. is liable for the payment of the bills for the plumbing equipment furnished to the subcontractor.

Attorney Daniel E. Teeter for the construction company said the answer to be filed in the near future will allege that arrangements between Kurtz and Careva which nullified the bond arrangements. Attorney Teeter said Gettysburg Construction had paid Kurtz for the materials.

May Close 1 Of 2 Catholic Schools

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—St. Mary's, one of two Catholic high schools located here, may be closed permanently after the current school term.

Monsignor Leo J. Post disclosed Monday the contents of a letter from the order of Sisters of Christian Charity complaining that the 50-year-old school's method of teaching was outdated.

The order said it was unable to staff the school properly and protested that nuns were expected to teach all subjects to a class, rather than specialize. The nuns urged the creation of a new high school.

Msgr. Post said the school's closing would affect some 165 students who could either attend public schools in the area or the city's other Catholic school, St. Joseph's.

Briefs About Sabin Sunday

Physicians noted that the estimated 60 per cent of the county who received the polio vaccine compares to 99.1 per cent in Houston, Tex.; 97 per cent at El Paso County, Texas, and 93 per cent in Cleveland, O., among the higher percentages in other mass distributions of the vaccine held previously.

In a number of instances, persons who appeared to take the vaccine personally asked for a sugar cube for a member of their family who was unable to get to a center to receive it personally. Doctors checked the circumstances in each case and often allowed the vaccine to go out, provided it could be used promptly.

About midafternoon Sunday a couple with two children came down the line to the registration tables at the Gettysburg High School and declined to register or be counted but said they were interested only in "seeing the school building." They walked through portions of it open for use Sunday and left without identifying themselves.

There were babes in arms and persons over 80 years of age in line. In a few instances registrars held babies while their mothers filled out the permission slips.

A group of 15 members of the Fairfield Fire Co. Auxiliary, headed by their president, Mrs. Ray Baker, were guests at the meeting.

There was group singing. Mrs. Gallagher gave a humorous reading and Mrs. Joseph Sanders presented a song pantomime.

It was decided to change the date of the next meeting to April 15 because of Holy Week. Named as the refreshment committee were Mrs. William Little, Mrs. John Codori, Mrs. Rose Heller, Mrs. Earl Myers, Mrs. Harvey Gastley. Named to the program committee were Mrs. Harold Dayhoff and Mrs. Harold Ford.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional. A scattering of issues advanced a point or more.

"vignettes" presented in Gettysburg and on the battlefield. They will be a series of dramatic sketches, none of them involving battle scenes or re-enactments. They will be in the nature of "human interest" events and will run three to six minutes each with two casts for each vignette to run them continuously through the mornings.

Then the speaker turned to a tabulation of the afternoon events for the first four days of July. The President's appearance will highlight whatever day he selects.

On July 2 rededications of various state monuments are to be held. Virginia and North Carolina already have made plans for such events and others will be planned. South Carolina will erect a new monument and will dedicate it on July 2.

PICKETT'S CHARGE

For July 3 "we are grappling with the problem of doing something about Pickett's Charge short of a re-enactment," the speaker said. "We are having trouble finding a way to describe the plans and now we are calling it a 'symbolic commemoration.' It will be colorful and will make use of the battle flags of the units involved in the charge."

Swope said the route decided upon for the parade will take it from Steinwehr Ave. at Culp St., north on Steinwehr to Baltimore St., north on Baltimore to Lincoln Square and north on Carlisle St. to E. Broadway where it will disband.

Many factors had to be taken into consideration in selecting parade route such as street widths, overhead clearance and marshaling and disbanding areas. He said he has been assigned as chairman of a sub-committee of the commission with chief responsibility for the parade.

The parade theme will place emphasis on national strength. Military units will require an hour to pass a given point in the two-hour procession.

MAKING FLOATS

Reactivated Civil War units will be in the procession, he said.

The Centennial Commission is having floats designed and it hopes to sell the ideas to industry. "We have not set any price tags on them ourselves but specified standards are to be met by all floats."

No prizes will be offered for floats. "I wouldn't say there will not be any local floats in the parade. If they fit the theme and are acceptable dramatically and aesthetically, they will be admitted. We don't expect to have any queens in the parade. They don't seem to fit into the theme. All or many of the floats will use local people." Later, in answer to questions, Swope said a commemorative coin for the centennial here is reported "definitely out."

The commission has given a great deal of attention and planning to events for the evenings of the anniversary period, Swope said. Until last December, it was thought that underwriting could be secured for a very costly program of "sound and light" similar to those used at Independence Hall and St. Augustine but financial backing did not develop and the plan had to be dropped, he said.

CAMP FIRE PROGRAM

The National Park Service now is planning special programs in a "camp fire area" to be developed in the Little Round Top sector where the Dore Schary film on Gettysburg will be shown and may be continued evenings after the anniversary.

Contradicting recent news reports out of Harrisburg that suggest there may be battle re-enactments if federal funds are secured, Mr. Swope said: "There are not going to be any re-enactments whether we get federal funds or whether we don't. That is our decision for many reasons. In the first place the National Park Service will not permit it."

He said that re-enactments would be too costly, would attract too many people here for a short period, would be too difficult to do well and would not be appropriate. He said reactions to re-enactments at Bull Run and Antietam have not been good. "We don't want our observance to be a mockery to the courage and sacrifice of the men who fought here. We don't want play-acting, cowboy and Indian stuff in the Gettysburg observance."

"Finally we have been told by the National Civil War Centennial Commission that they will not have anything to do with promotion of the Gettysburg observance if their is a battle re-enactment."

In answer to questions, Mr. Swope said a "Governor's Day" probably will be planned for the day the president will be here.

He said a lot of initial planning has been done for the November 19 part of the centennial and that now an observance similar to the "Mr. Lincoln Goes to Gettysburg" staged here a decade ago for the Western Maryland Centennial is being developed.

President Kenneth Dengler presided at the meeting which was held at the VFW home. The club voted $25 to the Adams County Crippled Children's Society and $25 to the Eye Research Foundation. Plans were discussed for local representation at the state Lions convention in Allentown in May and the international convention at Miami Beach in June.

place. They also elected Mrs. Merle Millhimes, New Oxford R. 2, a Gettysburg College senior, at a salary of $4,000 to teach vocal and instrumental music and art in the elementary schools, beginning in the fall.

PAY ADJUSTMENTS

There was a lengthy discussion on the matter of salary adjustments of certain school employees. The board referred to a special committee the consideration of a plan for merit increases for deserving employees. The action amounted to at least a temporary rejection of requests of two employees for pay raises.

Supervising Principal Amos D. Meyers announced plans for a teachers' workshop Friday, March 22, when schools will be closed. The elementary teachers will devote the day to new reading methods and modern mathematics. The high school teachers will work on curriculum revision.

It was decided that Easter Monday, previously listed as a holiday, will be a school day to make up for a day lost earlier because of snow.

OKAY BUDGET

Meyers also discussed briefly a proposed ungraded primary program in the elementary schools. The suggestion will be explored.

The directors gave tentative approval to a $484,440 budget for the 1963-64 school year, an increase of above five per cent over the current year. Current bills totaling about $30,000 were approved for payment.

President Paul J. Lerer presided at the meeting at the Berks Springs High School with 23 directors in attendance. The meeting adjourned about 11 p.m. creatures of this earth and while we can go into orbit we must eventually come back to this earth of ours. We are building to go to the planets, but we must also work that there will be an earth to come back to. We build planes and rockets to take us someplace else at progressively faster rates. But the question that is important is not how fast we can get there, but what we do when we are there.

"This is a problem for all of us. I think the international president of Rotary well summed up our goal when he said, 'There are 50,000 things that must be done immediately in my country of India alone. And there are probably many times 50,000 things that must be done immediately throughout the world. We are too small in numbers to solve them all immediately, but we are not too few in numbers to begin to work toward their solution immediately.'"

MAYOR SPEAKS

Mayor William G. Weaver told the Kiwanians that he attended the first meeting of the local club eight years ago, "and I must congratulate you on the many good things you have done for our community in the intervening eight years."

Vice President Clyde Markie introduced Rev. Mr. Smith. William Ditzler, chairman of the committee for the program, introduced Mayor Weaver, Kiwanis District Lt. Gov. Carlos F. Bodwell of Camp Hill, District Secretary Ted E. Brookhouser, who assisted with leading group singing, and Rev. W. W. Wood, honorary member of the local club, plus visitors from the Westminster, Mechanicsburg and Harrisburg Kiwanis Clubs.

President Charles Pentz presided. Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox gave the invocation and provided piano accompaniment for group singing and duet by Rev. Mr. Wood and Secretary Brookhouser. President Pentz announced that the Kiwanis Club will mark "Postmaster Recognition Night" at its meeting next Monday in the Lamp Post Tea Room.

Tornadoes also were reported in Colbert, Limestone, Pickens, Walker and Madison counties in Alabama. The Weather Bureau said a twister touched down twice in the vicinity of Huntsville but no damage was reported. The Marshall Space Flight Center is at Huntsville.

DIES IN WRECKAGE

Six communities in Mississippi—Reform, Sherwood and Lewis Store in the Starkville area, Vaiden, Hamilton and Ackerman—reported storms. A pulpwood hauler, V. T. Kelly, about 35, died in the wreckage of his home at Reform. His wife and child were injured.

Several other persons were hurt and about 50 homes were damaged in Mississippi.

The storm system moved into Tennessee late in the afternoon. Tornadoes touched down twice near Lawrenceburg, just north of the Alabama line, circled northward and struck near Murfreesboro and McMinnville in the mid-state area, dipped south to Jasper, near the Georgia line, then hit mountainous area around Parrottville.

REVISE COUNT

Through arrangements made with the Warner Hospital the 300 doses still in the county—left over from Sunday's distribution, will be available between 4 and 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the dispensary at the Warner Hospital. The first 300 will receive the Type I vaccine. Exhaustion of the supply will conclude the public distribution of Type I vaccine here. Assisting in the distribution at the hospital Thursday will be Girl Scout Troop 955, led by Mrs. Harry E. Baker and Mrs. John S. Bishop.

Monday night the 80 members of the local Howitzer Battery of the National Guard were given the vaccine. The unit was at Indiantown Gap Sunday and thus the members were to be available to receive it at the public program.

Adams County's medical director, Dr. C. G. Crist, today praised "all of the members of the county medical society and all the people of the county for their cooperation in this mass immunization. There has been nothing like it previously in the county's history. I particularly want to praise Dr. Harrison F. Harbach and his associates for the manner in which they set up the clinics so that everything worked smoothly and there were no delays despite the thousands who received the vaccine. I want also to praise the police, both regular forces and fire police, who through the county carried out the job of handling traffic with tremendous skill. "We can all be proud of our county and its people."

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Board Creates Another School:

At the regular March meeting of the Gettysburg School Board on Thursday evening it was decided to add another room to the present school equipment in order to relieve the congestion in the first primary grade now taught by Miss Rachael Scott. This room is to be divided and Miss N. Blanche Stoops was elected teacher. Along with the rapid growth of the town has come a corresponding increase in the number of pupils in the schools. This has been especially noticeable in the lower grades and at the present time Miss Scott has about seventy pupils under her direction. On April first it is customary to have additions of from twelve to fifteen new scholars in this room and its division was found to be absolutely necessary. It is very likely that next year, or in the not far distant future, the School Board will find it advisable to establish a first and second grade in the Meade building. Miss Stoops, the new teacher, is well known through her successful connection with Adams County schools. She is now teacher at Boyd's School but the term there expires before she takes up her work in Gettysburg.

New Nickel Here: The new nickel has appeared in Gettysburg and the opinion here seems to be that it is a miserable failure from an artistic point of view. It has a ponderous-looking buffalo on one side and an Indian head on the other side. The buffalo is so big that it crowds everything else off the coin, while the Indian fills in the circle like a big photograph in a small frame. The lettering on the coin is very poorly done and people generally seem to prefer the five cent piece which has been in use for so many years.

Use New Building: New Oxford's public schools are now using the fine new school building. Prof. Daniel Ruff, principal of the schools and teacher of the high school, is again at his post of duty after being quarantined at his home for some weeks on account of his daughter, Miss Elmiria Ruff, a teacher in the Gettysburg schools, being afflicted with a mild case of diphtheria. Miss Ruff has fully recovered and the quarantine was removed last week.

Will Complete Cyclorama: That the building to house the Gettysburg Battle Picture — more generally known as the cyclorama — will be completed May first was confidently promised Saturday afternoon at a meeting of H. J. Hahne, of Newark, owner of the picture, with representatives of the local Board of Trade at Hotel Gettysburg. Mr. Hahne values the painting, recognized as the most famous battle picture in the world, at $200,000 and has leased it for an indefinite period to the company which is in charge of the erection of the building on East Cemetery Hill. This company has been formed in New Jersey with a capital of $25,000. A nominal fee of twenty five cents is to be charged for admission and T. T. Fryer, of Newark, who has moved to Gettysburg, will be the custodian and will explain the painting to all who wish such explanation. It was Mr. Fryer who discovered the picture after a fire in Boston which destroyed the building where the painting had been housed. He called Mr. Hahne's attention to it when he learned that French capitalists were planning to buy it. Mr. Hahne believed it to be his patriotic duty to save the remarkable picture, almost 360 feet in length, for this country and made the purchase. Later he exhibited it in a large rotunda in his Newark store and from there it was taken to the Pension Office but so numerous were the visitors that it was necessary to take the picture out in order to prevent the crowds

Today's Talk

EVERYTHING PASSES

Life is a cycle of compensations. I have never liked that phrase, upon the passing of a useful and notable person, that his death meant a "calamity." The death of such a person is, and deeply regretted, but the things we do live after and useful tasks performed are endless in their influence.

The little irritations of today pass with the day. Time heals all sorrows and losses. There is a peak of all fame and renown. There is a world of human philosophy in that beautiful poem by William Knox — "Oh, Why Should The Spirit of Mortal Be Proud?" It was the favorite of President Lincoln.

Tears dry, or are wiped away, losses are adjusted, wounds heal, the sorrows of the heart are softened, the applause of the moment dies away. Everything passes — excepting the results of useful service and good influence. Someone, somewhere, is always in training to take up the unsolved problems of today, or to carry on the useful tasks of others who have, with credit and honor, finely performed their part in the play of life.

It should make us all happy that there is an abundance of work yet unattempted and that there are tasks that we alone are more able to perform than anyone else about us. Each one of us is a unique in some manner or other. This should make us feel our responsibility and spur us to useful service.

The storm passes but it is followed by the sunshine. Our friend dies but his or her memory abides and inspires us to work in better part. The years pass but with their passing is given to us a wealth of experience earned by men and women over centuries of time, as well as by us who inherit all that has gone before.

There should be no space in our mind or heart for regrets. I have looked often to a little slip underneath the glass of my desk. On it is written in the hand of the poet, Celia Thaxter, these words: "The sunrise never failed us yet!"

Tomorrow's subject: "On Fitting In."

STILL IN ITS INFANCY
All things of moment seem to be considered: "still in infancy."
Things such as "two and two make four"

Unchanged remain forevermore,
But never gray completion seems
To settle on the real of dreams.

"Still in its infancy!" they say
Who build machinery today;
"Still in its infancy!" they cry
Whose ships above us safely fly.
In all the fields of doing well,
"Still in its infancy!" they tell.

At times this hopeful phrase is matched
With this: "The surface hardly scratched!"

Still more to learn! Still more to do!

Still greater triumphs to pursue!
Though finished seem the labors done,

The work is really just begun.

No end to search! No final goal!
No dream complete! No finished whole!

No terrifying stopping place
But always problems new to face.
And always, at the wise believe,
Still something better to achieve.

from hindering the work of that department. It was also displayed in New York and Baltimore. Several of the men who were originally connected with the company, and have since been dropped, told the story that it was their desire to have the government buy the picture. Mr. Hahne does not hold that view of the matter and has leased the present site for a period of ten years. The building will be attractive in design and the cyclorama a valuable addition to Gettysburg's other attractions.

HOLY NAME'S
LADIES' NIGHT
HELD SUNDAY

Approximately 100 were present at the ladies' night meeting of the Holy Name Society of St. Aloysius Catholic Church held on Sunday evening in the parish hall following evening services in the church. The 1941 movie of Littlestown, taken under the sponsorship of the Alpha Fire Company, No. 1, provided entertainment for the members and their ladies. Stewart N. Long was projectionist and commentator. Refreshments were served following the program.

A brief business meeting preceded the movie and was in charge of president Marvin F. Miller. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. John E. Metz, led the opening prayers. The president welcomed the guests and accepted reports from Robert E. Murren and Charles E. Sentz. It was noted that the society had purchased new collection baskets for the church and new Holy Name Society prayer books as needed.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE

Paul E. Altoff, parish chairman of the laymen's retreats, spoke regarding the annual summer weekend retreats at Mt. St. Mary's College, explaining what is involved and the fee. He suggested that mothers and wives might present the men in their families with the necessary registration fee as a Father's Day gift as an inducement for attending a retreat or a 13-week lay-away plan, at a dollar a week. John R. Rudisill, president of the Conewago Deane of Holy Name Societies noted that there will be a retreat registration table provided at the annual Conewago Deane banquet to be held this year on Thursday, April 18, at the parish hall of Sacred Heart Basilica, Conewago. A special speaker has been engaged for the occasion.

President Miller appointed Donald McGenigal, Thomas Duttera and Z. W. Sanders to serve as a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for election in May. It was announced that the annual Holy Name breakfast in the parish will take place on Sunday, September 8, when there will also be reception of new members into the society.

possible indulgence, it was suggested that on Holy Name Sunday all members of the society meet in the parish hall and a few minutes prior to the beginning of Mass that they march to the church in a body.

Father Metz spoke briefly, also extending a welcome to the guests for the evening. He asked for prayers for the success of the forthcoming mission to be held in the parish beginning Sunday, March 24 and continuing through Saturday of that week. The Rev. Father Stanley, of the Jesuit Order of Missionary priests, from Long Island, will conduct the mission. Also during that week there will be reorganization of the parish sodality, Altar Society and Apostleship of Prayer. Additional ushers will also be recruited during Mission Week. The society will meet again on Sunday, April 14.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says he thinks it improbable, but not impossible that the Soviet Union would limit itself to military targets if it launched a nuclear attack on the United States.

That bare possibility makes it worthwhile for the United States to spend extra money protecting its own retaliatory capability, McNamara says.

His testimony was released Monday by the House Armed Services Committee, before which he appeared in January and February.

"I personally believe any nuclear attack by the Soviet Union on the United States will include an attack on the major urban areas of the United States," McNamara said.

But, he said, if the Soviet Union succeeds in making its missiles relatively safe from U.S. missiles, "it is conceivable, although not likely, that they might strike our military installations with a first strike, withholding certain forces to later strike the cities."

In that case, he said, the United States should consider striking back only at Soviet military targets, "thereby giving them an incentive to avoid an attack on our major urban areas."

McNamara's estimate of casualties in a massive nuclear exchange: 100 million dead in the United States, 100 million dead in the Soviet Union, 90 million dead in Western Europe.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials are citing mounting complaints in Communist propaganda organs of U.S. "poison gas" warfare as proof that chemical crop killers are depriving Communist Viet Cong guerrillas of food.

U.S. forces have been using a chemical defoliant to destroy crops in areas of heavy Viet Cong concentration and also to clear out underbrush which the guerrillas use for cover.

Government officials are reluctant to identify the chemical but they say it is a common commercial weed killer, non-toxic and harmless to men and animals.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. has a $387.9 million government contract to design and build 20 two-man capsules for use in moon landings.

Nine of the 12-ton capsules, called LEM for lunar excursion module, will be for ground tests and 11 will be for actual moon flights, the National Aeronautics and Space Agency said Monday in announcing the contract.

While the parent Apollo spacecraft orbits the moon, the LEM is to detach itself for a moon landing. After the astronauts explore the surface and make tests, the descent engine and the skid-type legs will serve as a launching pad for the LEM to rejoin the Apollo for the return trip to earth.

Greencastle Retains A-F League Championship By Lacing New Oxford 82-69

Pouring through 51 points in the second half, the Blue Devils of Greencastle successfully defended their Adams-Franklin basketball crown by turning back New Oxford 82-69, Monday evening on the Gettysburg High School floor before a large crowd despite the bad weather.

New Oxford, entering the game with an 18-4 overall record and the Eastern Division championship, had lost two previous regular season contests to the Blue Devils. Monday's championship game looked for a time as if the Colonials might turn the tide.

Sophomore John Harner hit on the first of two foul shots with 16 seconds to go in the first half and the teams left the floor at intermission in a 31-31 deadlock. Greencastle caught fire in the third quarter and put the game out of reach by doubling the Colonials' score for the eight-minute period.

ZEIGLER LEADS RALLY

Bill Zeigler, the Blue Devils' 6' jump shot artist, who had only two goals and four free throws in the first half, landed six of eight field shots in the third period. When he wasn't popping his 30 to 35-foot jumpers, Gary Seacrest and Terry Baumgardner were picking up on short tosses.

New Oxford opened fire with a three-point advantage following the first eight minutes. Harner had a big time with his short two-hand jump shot, landing five of seven goals to score 11 of the Colonials' 16 tallies. During the first period, Greencastle did not score a goal until the 3:35 mark and prior to that had hit on only three charity tosses.

Seacrest and Zeigler pushed the Blue Devils to a 27-23 lead with 3:46 remaining in the half. Harner and Bill Dubbs flipped in a goal and three of four fouls to take a 29-27 advantage. The score then seasawed until it finished in a 31-31 tie.

Greencastle connected on 32 of its 66 field shots while New Oxford landed 25 of 59 attempts. The Colonials came out on top in the outside shooting strength.

HARNER NETS 26
Harner paced New Oxford with 26 tallies, 20 coming in the first half. He collected 10 rebounds. Zeigler collected seven for Greencastle with Charles Clever and Bud Stotler half. On the other hand Zeigler's 26 counters for Greencastle mounted with 18 in the second half. Dave Meckley and Mike Hull contributed 18 and 14, respectively, for Jake Diviney's rebound department, 40-30, but that was as war as it could go against a team that utilized its Colonials. Gordon Becker and Gary Seacrest netted 11 and 14 for the Blue Devils.

Ken Simpson and Dave Meckley were the big guns under the boards for New Oxford, each pulling each other off six.

Coach Fred Schenk's Greencastle outfit finished the season with an overall record of 20 wins compared to but four setbacks.

LAKERS BEAT HAWKS IN LA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers, who haven't exactly been up to their eyeballs in good news lately, had at least two happy events to contemplate today.

For one thing, after losing seven of their previous eight games, the Lakers defeated the St. Louis Hawks 109-96 Monday night at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

But, better yet, all-star guard Jerry West worked out earlier in the day and said he felt no pain in his left leg. West pulled a hamstring muscle Feb. 3 in a game at New York. Since then the Lakers have played 22 games and lost 13 of them.

West is expected to be able to play in the National Basketball Association playoffs later this month. The Lakers already have won the Western Division title.

The Hawks-Lakers game was the only NBA contest Monday.

BEARCATS END SEASON IN TOP SPOT IN AP LIST

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Coach Ed Jucker says he isn't a bit worried over his Cincinnati Bearcats having won the final Associated Press basketball poll. That's despite the fact that Ohio State won the same honor in 1961 and 1962 only to be defeated by Cincinnati in the NCAA finals.

"I'd rather be No. 1 than any other way," said Jucker, whose team led the ratings all season. "We have something going for us and I'm happy with the situation. I'm not superstitious."

Cincinnati—which has not been beaten on its own floor since 1957—finished season play with a 23-1 record and was 11-1 in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Bearcats were a shoe-in in the final balloting Monday just as they were in the 15 weekly ratings.

EASY WINNER

Thirty-five of the 43 No. 1 votes went to Cincinnati which rolled up 420 points. Duke placed second, with seven first-place votes and 381 points. Providence, which did not make the Top Ten, got the other vote.

"Our next ambition is a third NCAA title—something which has never been done before. The team wants it badly. We're ready mentally and physically; we're eager and we'll have no excuses," Jucker said.

Chances are that the Bearcats will have to beat one of the other top teams to get their title. Ohio State and Wichita, which defeated Cincinnati by one point this season, are the only ones not taking part in the post-season NCAA tournament. Wichita is the favorite in the National Invitation tournament opening in New York Thursday.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses and points figured on a 10-8 etc. basis:

1. Cincinnati (35) 420
2. Duke (7) 381
3. Loyola of Chicago 277
4. Arizona State 228
5. Wichita 205
6. Mississippi State 181
7. Ohio State 176
8. Illinois 168
9. New York U. 64
10. Colorado 39

FRANK LARY HAVING FUN WITH YANKS

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Frank Lary is having fun again—and everybody is laughing. Except the Yankees.

Fun for Lary comes in two dimensions: 1. Beating the Yankees, making their slugs into popgun hitters. 2. Fooling around the clubhouse, on the field in practice, in the dugout.

The Detroit Tigers' Yankee-killer prefers the first kind of fun. But since he's been indulging in the second kind at spring training, it's a clear-cut indication he had no worries about his shoulder being better.

ENTERTAINS TEAMMATES

His first start of the exhibition season left him smiling Monday. He allowed five hits in three innings but struck out four and looked good.

The feeling is if Lary's shoulder still hurt, he'd be quiet, pensive, moody—not the hell-raiser he normally is except when pitching.

Playing basketball with a golf ball in the clubhouse... zigzagging through running exercises like a football end... keeping his teammates in hysterics—those aren't the actions of a sore-arm pitcher.

"GOOD SIGN"

"I see he's the same old Tatters," said Manager Bob Scheffing, encouraged by Lary's hijinks. "That's a good sign."

Besides, Lary has been all business while pitching. His motion has been fluid and normal. His fast ball hops and his curve crackles. And afterwards, his shoulder doesn't ache.

Lary holds a 28-11 edge over New York, best of any active pitcher.

A sound Lary means a difference of 21 victories to the Tigers, according to Scheffing's reckoning. The 23 he won when sturdy in 1961 against the 2 he won when ailing last year.

Fifty-five years ago, Theodore Roosevelt ordered Marine officers to prove their fitness by taking 50-mile marches.

Fontinato's injury was described as a fracture of the cervical spine with some dislocation.

SAYS CLAY IS THROWBACK TO "OLD-TIMERS"

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Goldman, who trained retired heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and other titleholders, says Cassius Clay is a throwback to the old-time fighters.

"He says he is the greatest," said Goldman Tuesday. "Maybe he is. The main thing is that he thinks so. No one has licked him yet. Until someone beats him he'll have to be the greatest—for now."

Goldman declined to make any comparison of Marciano and Clay.

ONLY TWO TYPES

"They are two different types of fighter," said Goldman. "Rocky was strong and wore his opponents down. Clay is a boxer with fast hands and power. Rocky proved himself. Clay still has to."

"The thing I like about Clay is that he started boxing when he was young, like the oldtimers did. He eats, drinks and sleeps boxing. It's his life. He's cocky as they come and that's good."

"I think he'll beat Doug Jones. If he wants to go after Sonny Liston after that, why not? He's as big and strong as Liston."

Clay, winner of all 17 of his pro fights, 14 by knockouts—boasts he's a cinch to stop Jones in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

PICKS ROUND 4

"He'll go in four," said Cassius, who predicted Jones would fall in six before.

Despite Clay's non-stop trumpeting of his own greatness, he hasn't broken the solid feeling of confidence in the Jones camp.

"Doug is going in there confident he can win. We know Clay has weak spots and Doug is going to work on them," said manager Alex Koskowitz.

Jones, 26, never has been stopped in posting a 21-31 won-loss-draw record. In his last fight on Dec. 15 he got off the floor and knocked out contender Zora Folley in the seventh round.

JOE JUDGE DIES, AGE 68

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joe Judge, a pint-sized giant of the Washington Senators' infield for 18 years, is dead at 68.

He suffered a fatal heart attack Monday while shoveling snow at his home. A Requiem High Mass will be offered Thursday morning.

A near-flawless fielder and steady hitter, Judge played 18 of his 20 major league years with the Senators and was on the Nats' only two pennant winning teams in 1924 and 1925.

Small for a first baseman—5-foot-8½ and 155 pounds—he led the American League in fielding of his position for nine straight years. Along with second baseman Bucky Harris, shortstop Roger Peckinpaugh and third baseman Ossie Bluege he was part of what Clark Griffith, the late Senators owner, called the finest fielding infield of all time.

Judge hit more than .300 for 10 seasons here and ended with a life-time .28 average.

4 TOP TEAMS IN NCAA MEET

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—With four of the Associated Press' top-ranked teams in the quarterfinal field, the NCAA College Division basketball championship show-down starting Wednesday should be the finest since the tournament's inauguration in 1957.

The quarterfinal pairings:

VAST AMOUNTS OF FOREIGN CURRENCY IS OWNED BY U.S.

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., squirmed two good-looking, female assistants to the Lido night club in Paris last summer and paid his way with U.S.-owned francs. The night on the town provoked outcries back home.

Powell had a quick defense. He quoted Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon as saying if Powell and other congressmen didn't use these francs, the U.S. government would have to burn them.

"This is money going right down the drain," Powell said.

DILLON DOESN'T RECALL
Dillon said he had no recollection of making the remarks and added that he felt these funds "require the same prudent management and careful handling as any other moneys of the government."

In fact, other administration officials say that most times that a congressman uses funds like these, he forces the United States to buy more foreign currencies with American dollars.

Powell's night on the town, the outcry, his defense, and the denial by Dillon reflect one of the most complex and massive problems in American international finance.

LEGAL LIMITATIONS

Throughout the world, the United States owns more than $3.8 million worth of rupees, pounds, dollars, zlotys, kyats and other foreign money. But the United States can't or won't use most of it now.

In Poland, for example, U.S.-owned Polish zlotys total more than $100 million. But every year the United States dips into its own gold to pay $1.4 million in U.S. Social Security and other benefits to residents of Poland.

In most cases, legal limitations, diplomacy, and economics prevent the United States from using all this foreign money that accumulates as a result of U.S. foreign aid.

COULD CAUSE INFLATION

Under U.S. laws, in fact, more than half the money, while American owned, must be used for the benefit of other countries. And, according to U.S. officials, the United States would rock and perhaps wreck the economies of other countries if it ever spent the rest of the money in one swoop.

"We would cause inflation," said Bartlett Harvey, chief of the Economic Progress Division of the Agency for International Development. "We would hurt the very countries we are trying to help. We would end up spending more American dollars to help them fight the inflation."

The problem of U.S.-owned foreign currencies is so complex that it seems to attract attention only when congressmen take these funds to finance junkets around

NEW EGYPTIAN STAR DAZZLED BY NEW LIFE

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Egyptian star Omar Sharif hasn't been able to contemplate his chances of winning an Oscar April 8.

He's still too dazzled over the changes in his life during the past two years.

A scant couple of years ago, he was living with his actress wife in Cairo and earning good money starring in Egyptian movies—lots of them.

"I would be appearing in three or four films at the same time," he recalled. "I would finish one scene and dash to another studio to shoot another one. There was no time for anything but to change my makeup and costume."

"To learn the dialogue was impossible—and Egyptians like a lot of dialogue in their films. So I had someone write my lines on a board—'idiot cards,' they are called here. I read my lines as I filmed the scene."

All that was to change when producer Sam Spiegel, on location with "Lawrence of Arabia," sent to Cairo for photographs of Egyptian actors for possible use in his film. Unbeknownst to Omar ("I would not have permitted it"), his photo was among those dispatched.

WAS WORTH EFFORT

Spiegel breezed into Cairo, had a 10-minute conversation with Omar, saw one of his films in a theater and signed him to play Peter O'Toole's Bedouin buddy. The actor, who had made his Egyptian films in 5 weeks, labored 18 months on "Lawrence."

It turned out to be worth it. The offers started pouring in even before his Oscar nomination for supporting actor. He is now playing the king of Armenia and Sophia Loren's husband in "Fall of the Roman Empire" in Madrid. "He was given a leave to collect a supporting-actor award from the Hollywood foreign correspondents." Next he plays a Spanish priest in "The 25th Hour" with Gregory Peck and Anthony Quinn.

EXCELLENT ENGLISH

The measure of Sharif's success: He is moving his residence from Cairo to that Valhalla of the international star, Switzerland.

"Since I will be doing films all over, the central location of Switzerland will be better for me," he explained.

What is Omar like?

He is handsome than you would have judged from his "Lawrence" role, with piercing black eyes and slender build. His English is excellent, though he spoke French first, then Arabic. He can also get by in Spanish and Italian.

SOON TO BE 31

He was born Michel Shalhoub, son of an Egyptian lumber dealer, and reared a Roman Catholic. After five years of selling in his father's firm, he decided he wasn't salesman timber and tried his hand at acting. He had made 21 Egyptian and French films until he was tapped for glory by Spiegel.

Omar will be 31 two days after Oscar night. While he shuttles back and forth between Spain and selling trips for "Lawrence" in this country, his wife, Faten Hamama, is making a film in Yugoslavia. It may be her last.

"It is time for her to quit," said Omar. "We have been away from our children too much—she has a daughter by another marriage, and we have a son."

The Sharifs will be settling down in a sizable Swiss chalet which they'll call home.

MADRID (AP) — Information Minister Manuel Fraga Iribarne said Saturday the Spanish government has not been asked about alleged political agitation here by former Argentine dictator Juan D. Peron.

WILL REVIEW PA. DRIVER LICENSE PLAN

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two Republican legislators in the state House plan to seek a review of the state's system of licensing Pennsylvania drivers.

Rep. Marian E. Markley, chairman of the House Motor Vehicle and Highway Safety Committee said Sunday she planned to ask her committee to review the entire system of licensing—including enforcement and renewal.

She said she would ask her committee Tuesday to name a three-member subcommittee to perform the review.

CALLED CHAOTIC

Rep. Harry S. Gramlich, R-Venango, lent his support to Mrs. Markley's plan and, at the same time, termed the present renewal system as "chaotic."

He has a bill in the Highway Safety Committee which would establish a renewal system based on driver's birthdays.

However, the action was met with a cautious reaction from revenue secretary Theodore Smith—especially Gramlich's proposal. Smith agreed that "something has to be done" in the department to meet renewal deadlines, but feared Gramlich's legislation would "tie our hands to one system."

"AWFUL CONDITION"
"I think the legislature ought to give us some opportunity to work out a system," he said. He thought a better plan might be to split the licensing periods into two sections, each accommodating one half of the state's drivers.

Gramlich's remarks were prompted by the department's 15-day extension last January of its deadline to renew the new biennial operators' licenses.

The extension was necessary for the department to process the 5,193,138 license applications.

Mrs. Markley agreed with Gramlich's observations. She said, "I've never seen such awful conditions as these people work under, particularly during licensing renewal times. If that were a private business, the Department of Labor and Industry would close them down."

Several Properties Are Transferred

Property transfers at the courthouse within the past three days include the following:

Harry D. Weaver, Spring Grove, to Floyd W. and Virginia M. Bishop, York County, a 124-acre property in Hamilton Twp., for $23,000; Robert H. and Margaret R. SAYS DOCTORS GAUGE CHARGE BY INSURANCE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Many surgeons charge for operations based on how much insurance their patients have, Dr. Loyal Davis of Chicago says.

Davis, president of the American College of Surgeons, said Sunday in an interview:

"Instead of basing their fees on a patient's ability to pay, doctors first find out how much insurance the patient is carrying and charge accordingly."

"This practice, he said, has led to 'third party intervention' by Blue Shield, which pays doctors for operations instead of sending money to patients.

ACCORDING TO ABILITY

"Ideally, Blue Shield should be able to send a check for a particular operation directly to the patient," Davis said. "When a man pays premiums, he should receive a stated amount of money for a stated premium."

Davis compared charging for an operation with charging for a piece of merchandise, saying: "I only have one product to offer—the best. It's not as if I could offer a better product to wealthier patients and a cheaper product to poorer ones, like a man selling overcoats. So I should charge primarily according to his ability to pay."

SURGEONS MEET
He added:

"Just because I, as a doctor, know that one of my patients is getting $200 from his insurance company, this doesn't mean I should charge him that amount for an operation that's only worth $100. A doctor should depend on his relationship with the patient in collecting his fee."

Davis is here for the American College of Surgeons' section meeting, which starts today.

SAY SCRANTON PLANS DRIVE ON CRIME IN PA.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton plans a full scale drive against crime including ferreting out of any political-criminal links, according to the state's two U.S. senators.

The two, Democrat Joseph S. Clark and Republican Hugh Scott, announced on their bi-weekly television-radio program Sunday that they met with Scranton earlier this month.

The meeting, not publicized then, was called by Scranton when it appeared Clark would not be able to attend a dinner last week of the state's congressional delegation.

COMPREHENSIVE DRIVE

Clark said Sunday, he and Scott were "both convinced that reasonably early in his administration Scranton and his attorney general and his chief of state police are going into a comprehensive law enforcement program at the state level in Pennsylvania and we commend him for it. And we wish our political friends of both parties would take note of this and clean up their own nests before the governor does it for them."

Scott said, "I think the governor and the attorney general made it very clear that they would not stand for corruption or failure at law enforcement or the linkage of crime with politics and you and I were both there and I'm glad to confirm that."

Also appearing on the program, taped for broadcast over Pennsylvania stations, was Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., who said he did not believe the U.S. could stop infiltration of South America from Cuba.

TRADE CHARGES

Clark said he thought the American people supported the administration's Cuban policies.

He said it was patently impossible to stop spies in small boats and that the U.S. has said it would step in only in the case of armed movement across the Caribbean from Cuba.

Clark also accused Scott of being a "war whooper," but the Republican denied this. Scott said he never advocated an invasion of the island.

Turning to the question of nuclear tests, the two Republicans said Congress should exert some control over current negotiations.

SAY MILLION AMERICANS TO VISIT EUROPE

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Europe may be mighty crowded with Americans this spring and summer. And when they get across the English Channel they may be competing with a record number of Britishers for room on the Continent's highways and for viewing space in the cathedrals.

Europeans predict visiting Americans will cross the one million mark this year for the first time. Last year about 920,000, other than military dependents and government personnel, went there. Washington officials estimate they spent about $623 million, excluding transatlantic transportation costs. Continental Europe also counts on playing host to most of the three million British subjects who are expected to leave their island for vacations or other travel, some 300,000 more than a year ago.

MANY TO DRIVE

Both the American and British tourists are stepping up their plans to drive themselves, either in their own or rented cars. American tourists are stepping up their plans to drive themselves, either in their own or rented cars. American motorists on European highways may reach 300,000 this year, up 50,000 from last.

The British Automobile Association reports air and sea ferries across the Channel are heavily booked by motorists for the peak summer months. The chill between the British and French governments over the Paris veto of London's entry into the Common Market apparently hasn't dulled the allure of the Continent for vacationing islanders.

Travel agents estimate more than a third of the Europe-bound Americans will be repeat travelers, many seeking out of the way tourist attractions.

STUDENTS DOUBLED

Student travel from the United States has doubled in six years. This year Washington expects to issue some 100,000 passports to students.

There is a big rise this year in reservations for economy class air travel. Americans probably will spend less per person after they get on the other side. This economy trend started two years ago when Washington began stressing the dangers of tourist spending's increasing the deficit of international payments the United States is striving to trim. One measure was cutting the dollar amount of foreign purchases an American could bring back duty free.

An American Express check of travel offices, hotels, car rental agencies, motorcoach and sight-seeing operators and the European Travel Commission foreshadows the arrival of 500,000 American visitors in London, up 9 per cent from last year; 437,000 in Paris, up 7 per cent; 396,000 in Rome, up 10 per cent; and 321,000 in Madrid, up 7 per cent. And 9,000 Americans may go to Moscow, against 6,500 in 1962. Most of the other 56 cities polled look for increases.

AIR TRAFFIC UP

Seventeen transatlantic airlines in the International Air Transport Association predict gains of 10 to 20 per cent in traffic. From June to September they have scheduled a record 487 flights a week, providing 63,000 seats.

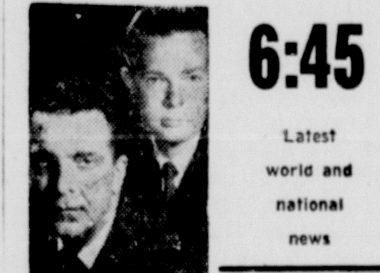

The TransAtlantic Passenger Conference reports steamship departures increased 4.7 per cent in 1962. It predicts surface travel will at least equal last year's.

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Revolutionary military courts have handed down 26 death sentences and two stiff prison terms to persons accused of battling the coup which overthrew Abdel Karim Kassem Feb. 8.

The 25 soldiers involved were ordered before a firing squad. A civilian was sentenced to be hanged.

A Lovelier You

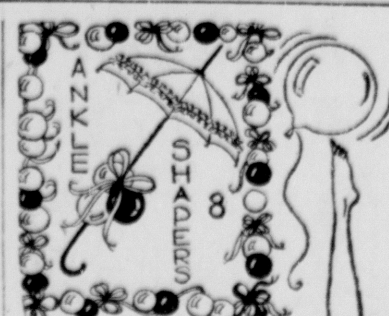

By MARY SUE MILLER
SPRING REDUCING SERIES.

Here's help for a lovely who wishes boots were a year-round fashion. She's the one, of course, who also wishes she had trimmer ankles.

As spring shoes, sell-like in their delicacy, are the antithesis of boots, help for heavy ankles takes the form of slimming exercise. Three easy but effective routines follow:

1. Stretch out, back down, on the floor. Quickly swing the right leg straight up and point the toes toward the ceiling. Next pretend that you juggle a balloon with your big toe. First circle the balloon by rotating the ankle in both directions. Then bounce it forward and backward by flexing the ankle. Throughout be sure to keep the leg upright, the knee straight and the hips on the floor. Continue for one minute and repeat with the left leg. Always work for increased speed and agility.

2. Stand with the ankles touching and the weight on the balls of the feet. Repeatedly rise on the toes and lower the heels to the floor. Go up slowly and come down quickly. Forty counts.

3. Using the heel-toe action, walk around your room for one minute. Take long steps, extending the ankles and making a rhythmic transfer of weight from toe to heel.

In addition to shapelier ankles, regular performance of these routines offers a bonus. It helps t. smooth the contour of the entire legline and to increase the willowness of your walk.

FIND BIDAULT IN BAVARIA; ASKS ASYLUM

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—The discovery of former French Premier Georges Bidault in Bavaria put a new strain on French-West German relations today.

Bidault, political chief of the terrorist movement sworn to overthrow President Charles de Gaulle, was located by German police Sunday in a lakeside hideout near the Swiss border. He asked immediately for asylum in West Germany.

Bidault's request for asylum was referred to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who was expected to order him expelled to some third country, probably Austria or Switzerland. Extradition to France appeared unlikely, since he is wanted on a political charge—treason. Extradition on political charges is barred by international law. Bidault was living in the house of a Dutch magazine writer in the village of Steinbach, on Lake Woertheesee southeast of Munich. A dozen police officers entered the house before dawn. Bidault asked for police protection saying he feared attempts on his life.

Bavarian Interior Minister Heinrich Junker said that although Bidault is on a list of undesirable aliens, there are no plans to expel him from Germany immediately and that his request for asylum will be "carefully studied."

The ex-premier came to Steinbach last week from another hideout in the Bavarian Alpine village of Hopfen where he had stayed since early February.

Bidault was tracked down by police probing the kidnapping Feb. 25 of a Secret Army Organization leader, Antoine Argoud, from a Munich hotel. French police said secret army terrorists did the snatching and delivered the colonel—bound and gagged—to them in Paris to avenge his bungling of an assassination attempt on De Gaulle.

As is customary, the president of the ministerium, the Rev. Lawrence Roller, will serve as dean of the school. Details concerning the Bible School will be discussed at the next meeting of the ministerium on May 13.

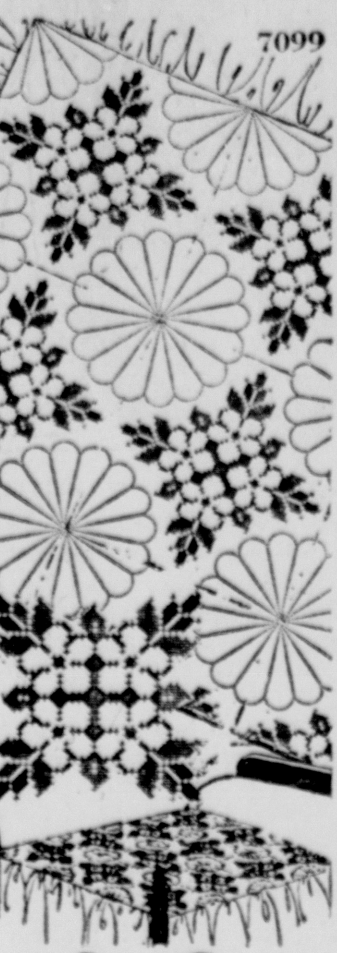

The session Monday opened with a dialogue between Pastor Roller, president, who presided, and the Rev. Mr. Kammerer, secretary-treasurer. Communications were read by the president and secretary. The Rev. Dr. Clyde Meadows, Chambersburg, will be unable to serve as guest speaker for the January, 1964, preaching mission, as he will be in Australia at that time. The ministerium does not plan to sponsor a Holy Week musical this year.

"I'll students of the Junior class of the Littlestown High School are invited to participate in the ministerium-sponsored essay contest on the subject 'What My Church Means to Me.' D.A. WILL NOT PROSECUTE PROSECUTOR

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish says he will not prosecute W. Wilson White as recommended by a grand jury probing alleged corruption in city hall.

"The basic elements of the crime of perjury are not present in this case," said Crumlish Monday in a statement released through his office.

The surprise move by the district attorney, who said last week he would act promptly on the jury's recommendations, capped an eventful day that saw these other developments in the probe:

Resignation of two members of the zoning board of adjustment who also had come under the jury's fire; denial of a petition to replace Crumlish as prosecutor of the investigation, and the appearance before the jury of State Atty. Gen. Walter Alessandrini.

ACCUSED OF LYING

The jury in its initial report last Friday, accused White of lying in testimony before it about an earlier city hall investigation which he conducted.

The jury said the first time White testified he turned over to Crumlish all information gathered during his short-lived probe.

But in a second appearance last week, the jury said, White changed his testimony and said he had held back from the district attorney the names of certain informants which he gave to Alessandrini.

Resignation of the two members of the zoning board was announced by Mayor James H. J. Tate, who had acted on the jury's suggestion last Friday and told them to quit or be fired.

The two are Morris Bolno and James Reynolds, described by the jury as frequenters of the Democratic City Committee. The jury report said the committee is under investigation for what it termed a possible interrelation with the zoning board.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's Metro police force intends to continue using its electronic computer in traffic control.

The machine was crammed with accident data Saturday. After it produced its analysis of where the most accidents were likely to occur, 10 motorcycle policemen went to the area and patrolled it for eight hours.

"We don't know if we actually prevented any accidents," said Lt. Quentin Weaver. "All we know is that we had 10 accidents a year ago and none Saturday."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

DEATHS

RANGER, Tex. (AP)—Morris J. Leville, 85, who joined the Ford Motor Co. in Detroit as a parts man during its first year of operation in 1903, died Saturday. Leville moved to Dallas, Tex., in 1909 and was responsible for building the first Ford in Dallas, with parts shipped from Detroit. He held a Ford dealership in Ranger from 1919 until he retired in 1957.

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Brian O'Higgins, 80, prominent Irish poet, author, patriot and legislator died Sunday.

BELMONT, N.C. (AP) — R. L. Stowe, 96, pioneer textile industrialist and merchant, died Saturday after a long illness.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—E. Paul du Pont Jr., 51, Wilmington, Del., businessman, inventor and aviation enthusiast, died Sunday after a short illness. He was president of the Ardee Oil Co., the Indel Co., and the Commerce Street Realty Co., and treasurer of the Water Research Co.

UNION DELAYS PUBLICATION OF N.Y. PAPERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight major New York newspapers, their presses idle for 95 days, must wait at least until Monday to resume publication.

The striking printers union has met Sunday for a membership meeting to vote on ratification of a proposed contract.

Striking stereotypers and mailers are still negotiating with the publishers on new contracts. The publishers and six nonstriking craft unions also must agree on new contracts.

A major problem of negotiators is persuading the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild to extend its contracts with the publishers by more than four months—making them expire at the same time as contracts covering the craft unions.

Publishers agreed to a common expiration date for contracts of all 10 newspaper unions—a major demand of the printers—provided the other unions went along with it.

Guilts contracts with the dailies expire Oct. 31, 1964. Negotiations bogged down Monday on the issue of getting the Guild to extend its contracts to expire two years from the date publication resumes.

Guild representatives said they would seek an interpretation of the contract expiration issue from Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the Guild, said "If we are going to be asked to

U.S. FARMERS BEGIN TO FEEL MART EFFECT

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—American farmers already are getting a taste of the European Common Market's restrictionist policies on agricultural imports.

U.S. farm exports to the common market counties during the July-October period were 13 per cent lower than in the like months a year earlier. Final figures for the last half of the year are expected to show an even larger decline.

Common Market import duties and levies are intended to make the six-nation market more self-sufficient.

During the last part of the year, U.S. exports to the Common Market declined in the case of wheat, wheat flour, poultry, and eggs. But exports of feed grains increased.

The government bought 37 million pounds of butter, 102 million pounds of nonfat dry milk and no cheese for its dairy surplus in February. This compared with 46 million pounds of butter, 8 million pounds of cheese and 49 million pounds of nonfat dry milk in February last year. The Kennedy Administration is calling for a new dairy program offering payments to producers who reduced milk production.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has come out against the administration's proposed three-year $500 million program of federal subsidies for urban mass transportation.

An Agriculture Department crop report says that start of field work has been delayed by weather in most of the farming areas east of the Rocky Mountains.

Spring wheat farmers had signed agreements by Feb. 28 to retire 620,760 acres from production under a government payment program this year. This brought to 5,938,000 acres the amount that winter and spring wheat growers have agreed to divert from crop use.

Employment on the nation's farms in late February was the smallest in over 50 years of record: 4,991,000 persons working during the week of Feb. 17-23. This was 3 per cent less than a year earlier and 10 per cent under the five-year average for the month.

Sunday night supper menu: Fish appetizer, cheese souffle with mushroom sauce and fresh red apples plus cookies. If you want to serve a vegetable, add cooked green peas to the mushroom sauce for the souffle.

Robert Stroud, known as the "Birdman of Alcatraz," will have a court hearing March 28 in Kansas City, Mo., in his fight to preserve property rights to a book he wrote in prison.

U.S. Dist. Judge William H. Becker ordered a final hearing on Stroud's request for a restraining order against federal prison authorities.

Stroud, 73, a prisoner for 54 years, contends that his rights are endangered by the refusal of prison officials to allow his attorney to negotiate for republication of his book, "Stroud's Digest on the Diseases of Birds," published in 1943.

Stroud is at the U.S. prison system's medical center at Springfield, Mo., serving a life imprisonment sentence for murder.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:
Business leaders are usually pictured as cool and well-adjusted, the real balance wheels of our civilization.

Actually, the industrial tycoon—and the military chieftain as well—is often more temperamental, neurotic and insecure in judgment than are many successful artists, writers and sculptors, who find in the discipline of their art a calming influence.

But the two classes in America most suspicious of the motives of others are probably movie stars and professional baseball players.

10TH ROBIN BEST
The first robin may be only a foolhardy adventurer. It's the 10th robin you see building a nest that really assures you spring is here. Nothing takes away the self-confidence of a grown person more than losing a front tooth. We have never met anybody over 40 who was satisfied with a new portrait photograph.

The simplest way to move to the rear of the bus is to follow a determined fat lady.

KINDS OF SNOBS
If you want to avoid a talkative barber, get your hair cut by an older one; the older he is, the more his feet probably hurt—and the more his feet hurt the less likely it is he'll want to give you his views on the state of the world.

A man who knows he is a snob usually makes a provocative and stimulating companion. It is those who are snobs and don't know it who bore us most.

No matter how worthless a fellow feels, it always helps his self-respect to get his shoes shined.

A man will spend his last dime having a good time, but women always keep a cash reserve somewhere in those portable trunks they carry.

MARRIAGE TEST
To anyone with common sense it is more inspiring to watch a small girl chanting as she skips rope than it is to spend an hour looking at the "Mona Lisa." A marriage is still intact if, when a husband goes carousing, the wife is certain it was some friend who led him astray.

Few things stir agnosticism in a fellow more than theft of his golf clubs from his parked car while he's attending Sunday church services.

No girl is really quite ready for marriage if she can't cook an omelet without getting eggshells in it.

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Swedish officials figure it will cost the equivalent of $80 million to get motorists to drive on the right side of the road—instead of the left.

Parliament will vote in April or May on the proposal to reverse a 250-year habit. If it's approved, Swedish drivers will follow the right side of the road like everyone else in Europe, except the British.

Costs will stem from the need to change traffic signs, reconstruct some highways and rebuild tramways.

NASSER PLEASSED WITH IRAQI BOLT

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser was reported taking a cautious but welcoming attitude today toward Iraq's proposal for a new Arab union.

Taleb Hussein Shabib, foreign minister of the new Iraqi revolutionary regime, proposed to Nasser Monday that Iraq, Syria and Nasser's United Arab Republic (Egypt) make a start by setting up a joint military command and an organization to coordinate political planning.

Indications were that the progress toward union would be slow and gradual. There was speculation that an Arab summit meeting might be called to discuss the idea.

The Iraqi plan calls for Yemen and Algeria to join the group later.

Nasser has not committed himself although informed sources said he welcomed the proposals warmly. There was no official comment from the new Syrian government. Pro-Nasser mobs in Damascus demonstrated in the streets chanting for unity with Egypt.

President Back From Catocin

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flew back to the White House Monday from a day on a Maryland mountain top and greeted the boys' and men's choir from Poznan, Poland.

The choir got a presidential request to sing and Kennedy heard three numbers.

"Very good," he said, smiling and applauding. "I'm glad you came over here."

The performance took place in the White House rose garden on a chilly morning.

Kennedy landed by helicopter 50 yards away and went to his office briefly before going out to hear the choir. He had flown to Camp David, the presidential retreat on a ridge of the Catocin Mountains near Thurmont, Md., on Sunday.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The San Diego Naval Training Center has placed its 12,000 recruits under quarantine because of an outbreak of spinal meningitis that has claimed one life.

The latest of five cases was reported Sunday.

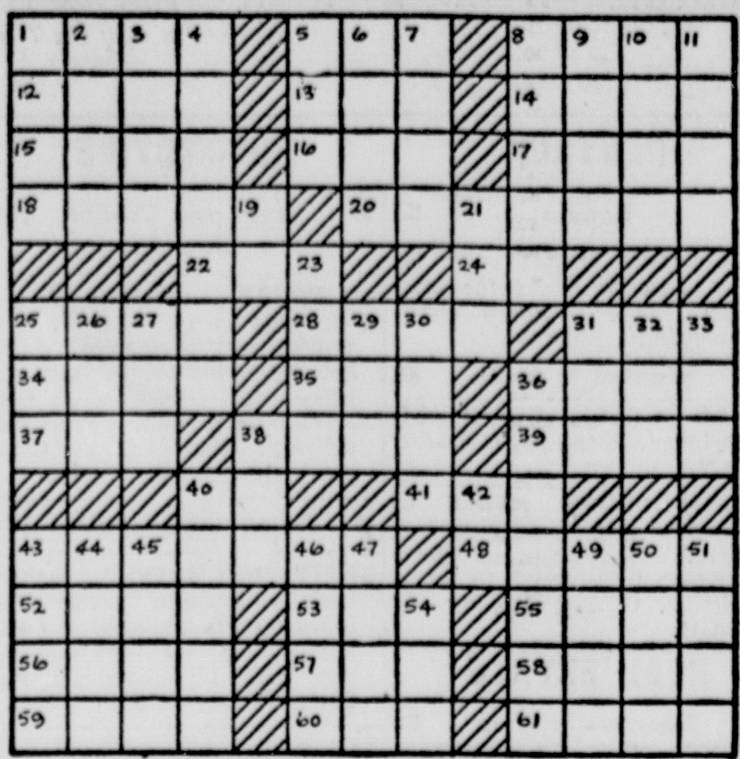

Recruit James S. Hale of Osborne, Kan., died Thursday soon after he entered a naval hospital. Four other recruits were reported in serious condition with the disease.

WARSAW (AP)—Poland's communist government admits it is plagued with too much talk and too many meetings at the expense of work.

"The surplus of conferences and consultations . . . is a sickness from which our administration has suffered for a long time," says a letter which the Council of Ministers is circulating to government administrators at all levels.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Only 34 convicts are left in Alcatraz Federal Prison as the result of further transfers in the program aimed at deactivating the prison by July 1, Warden Olin G. Blackwell said Friday. The prison had 260 convicts a year ago.

Centenarian Is Unsure Of Her Age

BELLE VERNON, Pa. (AP)—With one more birthday out of the way, Mrs. Calliope Patrikousis looked forward today to her 110th, or maybe it will be her 114th birthday next year.

Mrs. Patrikousis, a native of Greece, celebrated her birthday Sunday in this Fayette County town. Her family says she is at least 109 and possibly as old as 114. No records of her birth exist. No one even knows for sure that March 10 is Mrs. Patrikousis' birth date. The family, though, considers it as good a date as any.

About 15 members of the family joined Mrs. Patrikousis in celebrating Sunday. Another 100 persons, community residents, stopped in to wish her well.

PARIS (AP)—Striking coal miners plan a mass motorcade from the pits to Paris Wednesday. They want to present their case for a wage hike directly to President Charles de Gaulle's government.

The motorcade is planned by workers at the mines around Merlebach, in the Lorraine basin. Miners from other areas may join.

Now in the 11th day of their walkout, militant miners pledged at meetings Sunday not to go back until they get a 40-hour week and an 11 per cent increase over the $5.80 a day they average now.
